

Return to the Green by Kris Darby

Description

Return to the Green is an audio walk where listeners are cast as the ghost of the mythical Gawain, arriving at the Green Chapel to meet the Green Knight once more. However, it has been over 600 years since their last visit and the earthen mound of the chapel is now the ruins of Birkenhead Priory. With humanity now only a spectral presence, the world has returned to the green.

Biography

Kris Darby is an academic and sound artist. They are a senior lecturer in Drama and Performance at Liverpool Hope and Chair of the Board of Directors for Theatre & Technology company C&T. Their research interests concern walking as an aesthetic practice, hauntology and immersive performance. Their sound compositions and audio walks have been presented at Tate Liverpool, Parlour Showrooms and Exeter Ignite.